Adjectives have three degrees that compare one thing to another. The three degrees of adjectives are:

Example: Teddy is a tall boy.

For the adjectives with two syllables, add -er or more, like narrower, and taller. For more than two syllables, add the word more before the adjectives. Examples are: more beautiful, more reliable, and more interesting. The adjectives here are usually followed by the word than.

Example: Teddy is taller than Leo.

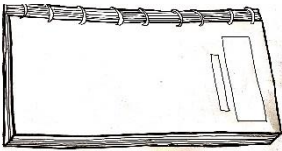

3. Superlative is used when comparing more than two things.

For two syllables, simply add -est or most to the adjectives like narrowest, and tallest. For more than two syllables, add the word most before the adjectives like most beautiful, most reliable, and most interesting. The adjectives here are usually followed by the words among them, of all, and of them all.
